[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

EASTERN DATES TO NOVEMBER 27.

Washington News

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—The question has arisen whether a girl, one-eighth negro blood, can attend the public schools. It is attracting much controversy and has been referred to the corporation attorney for his opinion. A late act of Congress strikes out the disability from laws relating to the District of Columbia, but the school question is now agitated under the corporation laws.

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—It is stated that Senator Cole, Judge O'Sullivan, and Holt, Solicitor of New York, had an interview with the President yesterday on matters relating to St. Domingo. Judge O'Sullivan, who has been familiar with the affairs of the island for some years, explained to the President the condition of the island and the desire of the people for annexation. The President appeared highly interested, and asked numerous questions bearing on and effecting the scheme of annexation. It seems that when the recent negotiations were taken up President Baez called his Ministers and Senate, and informed them of what had taken place between the two governments, and asked each gentleman present to express his views candidly as they consider for the best interests of the Dominican people. After each had complied with his request they unanimously declared that to accept the propositions of the United States would be highly advantageous to the peace and prosperity of the island.

Virginia Politics.

RICHMOND, Nov. 26.—After the withdrawal of a portion of the members of the Republican State Convention last night, the Convention elected Porter Chairman of the State Central Committee, and resolutions were adopted asking the General Government to extend aid to the colored people the present severe winter. The withdrawing members held a meeting and issued a call for the National Union Republicans of Virginia, in favor of free thought and speech. They met to-day to perfect the organization of the party.

Reform Church Synod.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 26.—The General Synod of the Reform Church of the United States commenced its triennial session last evening. Two sets of delegates were present with credentials from Iowa. Rev. Dr. Gerhart of the Theological Seminary of Mercersburg, was elected President, and Rev. J. H. Porter stated Clerk. One hundred and eighty-three delegates are present from thirty-one classes. The session promises to be of great interest.

The Railroad War.

AKRON, Ohio, Nov. 26.—The Erie cases were brought up to-day before Judge Boynton. All the parties were present except Jay Gould, who is sick. F. A. Lane and the Erie clique with Gould and O'Doherty as receivers, swear to the earnings of the Atlantic and Great Western road from April 9th to August 31st, 1869, as $1,934,000, and the debt of the road at $9,437,300. There are affidavits in Court that the road cannot sell for $15,000,000, if put in the market with the utmost care.

New York News.

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—Richardson is very feeble and in a critical condition this morning. The ball fired by McFarland has been found. It passed through the stomach and lodged below the kidneys, near the spinal column, and has been extracted.

The steamer Frolic, flag ship of Admiral Stringham, will sail in a day or two for San Domingo, having on board Admiral Porter and General McCook and Burnside. The Frolic is ready for sea and only awaits the arrival of her passengers. It is stated that the ironclad monitor Miantinomah and a torpedo boat have been ordered from Fortress Monroe to this harbor, as a fleet of observation on the movements of the expected Spanish squadron.

Collector Grinnell, District Attorney Pierrepont, the Supervisors and naval officers of the port, held a private conference at the Custom House yesterday in reference to the recent frauds and to fix on a time and method in which to institute proceedings against the defaulting parties.

Vessels of the Navy, which have been keeping watch over the Spanish gunboats, were released yesterday, and Marshal Barlow placed an armed tug to watch them. Work was resumed upon them by permission of Attorney-General Pierrepont.

Decision in the New Orleans Sugar Case.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 26.—The first of the sugar cases, involving 480 hogsheads, six tierces of sugar, on which the Government proved a deficit on the invoiced weight of over $56,000, was decided in the United States Court to-day; verdict in favor of the Government, condemning the whole of the sugar.

Another Shooting Scrape.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 26.—Horace Phillips shot R. H. Leonard, at half-past eleven o'clock last evening, while accompanying Mary Cummings, a widow lady, from the theatre. Phillips had been paying attention to her, but was rejected in favor of Leonard. Three shots were fired, one taking effect in the groin, but not dangerously. Phillips has been arrested. The parties are very young.

Fire in a Menagerie.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 26.—On Wednesday night an incendiary, it is supposed, fired a building at Connersville, Indiana, used as winter quarters for Spanger's menagerie. By order of the Superintendent the animals were let loose, but this proved needless, for the fire was arrested before the building was destroyed. A lion killed several sheep on the fair grounds and had an encounter with a bull, which he finally killed. All the wild animals were eventually captured and safely caged. Damage $4,000.

Pugilistic.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 26.—Tom Allen, replies to the challenge of McCoole saying that he has fought and whipped him twice, and has been cheated out of his money both times. He does not propose to fight for nothing any more, but will, however, fight for $500 or $1,000 a side, within fifty miles of Cincinnati, the winner to take the stakes and excursion money. If this is not accepted he will fight any man in the United States for any amount within fifty miles from Detroit. He will not fight any one within 300 miles of St. Louis.

Condition of Richardson

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—The shooting of A. D. Richardson by McFarland, has been the topic of conversation and comment to-day. There are no symptoms of inflammation. Recovery is probable. The coroner took an ante mortem statement to-day. McFarland was committed to prison to await the result of the shooting.

Railroad Trouble.

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—There is nothing new in the Erie fight. Fisk, Jr., remains in the office, around which is a strong guard who permits nobody to enter until properly vouched for. It is impossible to serve papers on him. All the parties have filed a general denial to Ramsey's charge. They are making arrangements to fight the matter, but hope to have it transferred to New York City. The general opinion is that they will defeat Ramsey and retain control of the road. Judge Barnard has issued an injunction staying proceedings, and it is rumored that the effect will be to stop Ramsey from pushing the case.

It is stated that suit has been instituted by the Erie Railway Company against the Buffalo, Bradford and Pittsburg Railway, Daniel Drew and others, for $200,000, for losses sustained by the plaintiff, as is alleged, in consequence of the leasing by the Erie Railway Company of the Buffalo, Bradford and Pittsburg roads, which is claimed was effected by fraud. The plaintiffs also seek to have the contract cancelled.

Liquor Dealers' Convention

CHICAGO, Nov. 26.—A Convention of liquor dealers has been in session in this city for the past two days. It was largely attended and concluded its labors yesterday, having organized a national association and adopted resolutions for presentation to Congress. The resolutions declare that the tax on distilled spirits should be collected by direct tax, at the place of manufacture, and should be sufficient to cover the present direct and indirect taxes, including officer's fees, etc.

Meeting of Stockholders of W., F. & Co's Express.

CHICAGO, Nov. 26.—New York specials say the meeting of Wells, Fargo & Co's stockholders yesterday, was quite exciting. An injunction was served on the old officers on complaint of Eugene Kelley, restraining them from the issue of new stock. The Kelley party refused to vote, consequently the vote stood [illegible] shares in favor of the increase of capital and the purchase of the Pacific Express Company, and 211 against. The matter was not amicably settled, and there will probably be another meeting soon.

Death of a Miser.

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—Lyman Allen, an old man, was found dead in his bed at Taylor's Hotel, Jersey City, yesterday morning. He was a merchant worth $600,000. He had lived there five years in a miserly manner. He took but one meal a day, and his wardrobe at his death was valued at 25 cents. His friends in Newton, Connecticut, get his money.

West Indies.

HAVANA, Nov. 26.—The sugar market is firm. Heavy contracts were lately made, especially for molasses, in Matanzas and Cardenas.

A special says a letter dated St. Domingo represents that all St. Domingo leaders, including Baez, Pimental, and Cabral, are pledged to annexation to the United States. Baez is ready to open negotiations when assured that the Congress of the United States will make the necessary appropriations. The people oppose the dismemberment of the Republic, but wave annexation. The partisans of Pimental are scattering handbills favoring the scheme. The only opposition comes from parties under European influence. Hayti follows the example of San Domingo. Salnave and Garget both favor the annexation of the Island, which can be purchased for $2,000,000.

HAVANA, Nov. 26.—A letter states that the Captain-General is very low spirited since he returned from his inspection tour to Cienfuegos.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

LONDON, Nov. 25.—Dispatches from Rome announce that the religious exercises preliminary to the opening of the Ecumenical Council have been ordered.

The Post refers to the proposed ocean race between the Dauntless and Cambria. It says it rests with Ashbury, owner of the Cambria, whether the match comes off or not. If he will not sail in the ocean race without first trying an inland match with the Dauntless, the matter must be dropped, as Bennett refuses to sail in any except an ocean race. All Ashbury has to do to insure an ocean race is to waive an inland contest and decide what the prize shall be. This is the simple way out of the labyrinth of misapprehension.

The Times, in an article on the Spanish throne asks why Spain could not have an upstart dynasty as well as France and Sweden? Why the son of the Duke De La Tour or Count De Rend cannot answer for a king as well as any scion of an old kingly race. If royal princes are needed, why should Spain seek further than children of the women of the Bourbons. Why not recall the Prince of Asturias and rescue him from his mother's influence and qualify him for a station, the right to which he has not forfeited by any fault or crime of his own.

The Shipping Gazette has an editorial on American finances. It thinks a return to specie payments could soon be effected in the United States, and that the debtor class would suffer.

PARIS, Nov. 25.—The Empress is expected in France the 22d December.

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—A Madrid dispatch says a manifesto has been issued by the Republican Deputies of the Cortes accusing the Provisional Government of having provoked the revolutionary movement. It announces, however, that the Deputies will resume their seats in the Cortes to defend the rights of the people and strive to establish a Federal Republic, through which alone can the union of Spain and Portugal and the preservation of the colonies be effected.

PARIS, Nov. 26.—There was a rumor that prominent members of the Thiers party met this forenoon to discuss a proposition for an interpellation resolution blaming the ministry, and that it was adopted. The electoral meetings will recommence to-day.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 26.—The old law that limited the residence of Jews has been enforced in some parts of the Empire recently. Two thousand Jews have been removed from the Bessarabian frontiers to the interior of Russia within a few days. The impression prevails that the Emperor will disapprove these proceedings.

LONDON, Nov. 26.—The Times in discussing the Irish question in the next session of Parliament, says the ministry must be prepared with a land reform bill, framed with amity, justice and statesmanship.

The Times considers the election of Rochefort to the Corps Legislatif as the last important protest of an angry people and genius to have a seat for one of themselves in the chamber, but this does not prove that France is ripe for a gamin Government.

OUR SAN FRANCISCO DISPATCH.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 27.—It is thought that the explosion last night, was of nitro glycerine, and that the Giant Powder Mills were simply burned. The loss to the company will prove very serious, and it is stated they had no insurance, owing to the character of the works.

Wm. Lentz, tailor, was drowned this morning, while bathing at the foot of Hyde street. He leaves a wife and six children.

H. Greenwood, who attempted suicide recently, died this morning at the City and County Hospital.

The suspension of Isaac S. Josephs & Co., jewelers of this city, is announced, liabilities said to be heavy.

The sales at the San Francisco Stock Exchange for the past week, aggregate $1,229,000.

The steamer Active sails for Victoria, Saturday next.

Seventeen boxes of clocks from the American Clock Company, arrived by rail yesterday.

It is stated that the employers of printers have demanded of the hands a reduction of wages ranging from 20 to 33 per cent.

San Francisco Produce Market

Wheat—Common to good milling $1 10@1 30; choice shipping, $1 45@1 50.

Barley—Coast is quotable at 90c@$1 00, Bay feed and brewing, $1 00@1 07½, old brewing, $1 10.

Oats—Very choice, $1 50, full figures, other descriptions sell from $1 45 down to $1 10.

Potatoes—Bodega and Petaluma, 80@85cts; Humboldt, 87½@$1.

Eggs—California sell at 50c. The last Oregon steamer brought over 9,000 dozen, some of which cost 40 cents in Portland; they are selling here at 30@35 cents per dozen.

Yreka Dispatch.

YREKA, Nov. 27.—At the auction sale of cattle at Butte Creek, on Receiver's sale, last Saturday, three hundred head were bid in at $35 50 per head, by Wm. G. Cheard, of Tehama. The cattle are said to be in fine condition.

The Yreka school trustees are about to commence building a fine school house, when completed it will cost about $13,000.

Five hundred feet of the flume of the big ditch over Cottonwood creek fell down last week. This will cause another delay in getting water to this vicinity.

The merchants of Yreka have all agreed not to open their stores on Sunday, neither for the purpose of delivering goods sold previously or for the sale of goods, and further pledge themselves to make complaint of any violation of the Sunday law.

The roads are good, stages are running regularly and making summer time.

Alaska.

Files of the Alaska Times received at San Francisco by a recent arrival from Sitka represent a deplorable condition of affairs among the Russian population of Alaska. The Times says that great destitution prevails among them, and they are actually starving. The editor had visited the stores and residences of nearly every Russian family in Sitka, and in some of them he found nothing but fish, which the occupants could not cure because they had no money to buy salt; in others there was no flour, no coffee, no meal, nothing to sustain life. The Times attributes this destitution to the fact that the employment which the Russian occupants of the Territory gave to the civilians has been withdrawn by the American military authorities, and placed upon the soldiery. The Times speaks of American schools being established in Sitka, which are getting along very successfully. Large numbers of the Russian children are attending them, who evince aptitude and rapid progress in their English studies. A previous efficient Russian school system had taught the general branches of school education. The Russian national religion, the Greek Church, is, of course, the faith among them.

LAST NIGHT'S DISPATCHES.

Naval Affairs

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—A special says Secretary Robeson's report was presented to the President yesterday. It is the ablest and most comprehensive report issued for years from the Navy Department. It appears that 200 vessels are under the control of the Department. He recommends a decrease to 150 and favors the use of small vessels. He is opposed to the further use of Isherwood's machinery, on account of its bulk and weight. He comments favorably on the success of iron clads, and gives much space to a comparison of our navy with that of other countries, from which it appears that our vessels are equal to England in capacity for cruising purposes and superior to those of France. The entire tonnage of the English navy is 5,500,000, ours 4,500,000, and the French only 2,000,000. He recommends an increase of the pay, bounty, etc., on account of the difficulty in obtaining a sufficient number of men. He recommends the early completion of the Darien Canal and speaks favorably of the scheme for subsidizing ocean mail lines. He proposes using such vessels in case of war or other emergency. He estimates the expenditure of the next fiscal year at $25,000,000.

The Oregon Railroad

Senator Williams visited the President yesterday and presented evidence of the completion of the first twenty miles of the Oregon Central railroad, running from Portland south. The Senator recommended the following as Government Commissioners to examine the road, and they will be appointed to-day: Thomas A. Savier, E. R. Geary and Jesse Applegate, all of Oregon.

The British Mission to the United States

It is rumored in diplomatic circles that England will soon increase its mission to this country to first class, placing it on a par with France, Austria and Russia, and sending a Minister of the highest ambassadorial rank.

San Domingo Again.

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—Gen. Babcock, accompanied by Gen Ingalls, sailed on the steamer Albany for San Domingo. Babcock had sealed instructions from the President directing him as to what course he should pursue, pending negotiations with the Baez Government. These instructions are not to be opened until the steamer is at sea. The proposition for annexation from Baez, he having assurance previously of favorable consideration by our government, was to be submitted to the votes of the Dominican people, thus obtaining popular endorsement of the measure. This election will occur immediately after the arrival at San Domingo of Babcock and Ingalls and after the election, supposing the result favorable to annexation, Baez and the Commissioners will visit the United States and present a petition for admission. The terms of the annexation will be the assumption of the debts of the republic, amounting to less than $1,000,000, and the purchase of the public buildings, etc., which will not amount to more than $1,000,000.

The Spanish Gunboats.

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—The Spanish Consul here states that the Spanish Government has appropriated $6,000,000 for building six new corvettes in New York, but it is doubtless whether they will be built now that the United States Government has treated them so badly. He also states that the Spanish Government does not own 30 gunboats; they were the property of Mr. D[illegible]ter, though it was true the money had been paid to himself. The government had endeavored to prevent them from going to Cuba direct, and threw them on Mr. Delamater's hands. There were Englishmen who stood ready to buy them and who would undoubtedly sell them to Spain. In regard to the coming of the Spanish fleet to this port he said the ships had two objects in view: first, if the United States had not interfered with them some would have brought crews etc., for boats while others would have remained here for repairs. Second, if President Grant chooses to favor a few hundred Cubans and accord them belligerent rights rather than continue in friendship and peace with 18,000,000 of Spanish subjects then the Spanish Minister would demand his passport and come here to embark on a naval vessel and return to Spain. The coming of the Spanish fleet to this port meant no insult to our nation, but the American Government has taken so many precautionary measures it was proper his government should do likewise.

District Attorney Pierrepont was notified yesterday by Delamater's counsel that the demand for the release of the gunboats will be filed to-day or Monday.

Horace Greeley prints a letter this morning to General Butler asking him to place himself, Butler, at the head of the movement looking to instant and complete removal of all political disabilities whatever, from any and every one who shall favor the fifteenth amendment and their prompt restoration to all privileges and immunities of citizenship.

Washington News.

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—No further action was taken to-day in the case of the Spanish gunboats.

United States Commissioner Betts to-day decided that the delivery of a letter to the authorized agent of a person to whom it is addressed terminates the connection of the post office with it, and subsequent embezzlement by such agent is not an offense against the United States but can only be taken cognizance of by the State Courts.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—The Supreme Court of the District of Columbia met this morning for the purpose of rendering a decision in cases under advisement. At the opening of the Court, the Secretary of the Interior withdrew the motion previously submitted and argued and held under advisement by the Court to vacate by judgment and quash the writ of mandamus issued in the McGarrahan claim, thus leaving the judgment in full force. The Secretary therefore must obey the writ and issue the patent to McGarrahan.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 27.—A petition to Congress to recognize the belligerent rights of the Republic of Cuba received 50,000 signatures in three days.

New York News.

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—John L. Burton, Custom House broker, was arrested yesterday, on complaint of B. G. Jayne, an officer of the custom house, for bribing weighers to procure false weights of coffee.

The Herald says the Passaic County Grand Jury also indicted Fisk & Jay Gould for frauds and conspiracy if caught upon Jersey soil. They will be arrested and arraigned forthwith.

It appears that the discharge of two hundred workmen from the Trenton Rolling Mills arises from complaints of the Erie Company who own the property. The Erie offices are still guarded. Parties asking for Fisk are informed that he is in Boston, though it is generally believed he is in the building.

The charges against Burton, arrested for custom frauds, are suborning several weighers to make false returns of coffee. The case against them was abandoned on their promising to give States evidence on merchants engaged in returning false weights.

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—A messenger of the Mechanics Bank was robbed on Wall street yesterday of a large amount of checks, drafts and several hundred dollars in money.

The Railroad War.

AKRON, Nov. 27.—In the Erie case to-day the resignation of Jay Gould of the Receivership under certain conditions was read. A discussion of counsel in regard to the appointment of a new Receiver was ended abruptly by Judge Boynton announcing that he saw no need of the Receiver, and would appoint Judge Hitchcock Receiver under 200,000 bonds. The appointment is considered a good one.

Marriage "Extraordinary."

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—Paul Gerand, brother-in-law of the Portuguese Minister, announces that he will be married on December 1 to Miss Wormley, daughter of a well known colored restaurateur in Washington. Gerand is a gentleman of position and education. He is wealthy and has distinguished relations in France. Miss Wormley is well educated of pleasing manners. The event promises to disturb the "social circle" considerably.

Affray in Arkansas.

MEMPHIS, Nov. 27.—A terrible affray occurred in Johnson county, Arkansas, last week. A planter named Johnson had an altercation with three hands in a cotton field who attacked him with knives. Johnson drew a knife to defend himself, killed two instantly and mortally wounded the third. Johnson received more than twenty wounds, but will recover. He bears the reputation of being a quiet citizen. A large number of persons are constantly coming into Arkansas principally from Alabama, Tennessee, Missouri and Illinois.

Richardson Recovering.

CHICAGO, Nov. 27.—A special from New York at midnight says A. D. Richardson is doing well. His surgeon entertains strong hopes of his recovery.

OUR SAN FRANCISCO DISPATCH.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 28.—The remains of P. B. Foster were followed to Lone Mountain by a large concourse of friends this morning.

The body of Wm. Lintz, who was drowned yesterday, has been recovered to-day.

Four hundred dollars worth of cigars were stolen from New World Station last night.

Joe Coburn, the champion of America, has challenged Tom Allen to fight for any sum from $2,500 to $10,000.

The printers have resolved to resist the attempt to reduce wages, and a strike will probably be the result if the proprietors insist upon a reduction.

The installation of Mayor Selby and the new city and county officers will take place Monday, Dec. 6th.

The new Central Presbyterian Church was dedicated this afternoon, eight clergymen officiating.

The Giant Powder Mills will [illegible] shortly.

Shipping.

Arrived—Nov. 28th, ship St. [illegible], 152 days from New York; bark Nereid, 12[illegible] days from Liverpool.

Greenbacks, 80½.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 28.—Sailed, Nov. 28th, bark Buena Vista, Port Gamble; brig North Star, Portland. No Arrivals.

Stockton Dispatch.

STOCKTON, Nov. 27.—Last night the store of George Weinke, situated 17 miles from Stockton, on the Mariposa road, caught fire, and with its contents was entirely destroyed. A man passing this afternoon saw the charred remains of two human bodies amid the smoking [illegible]. The names of the parties have not [illegible] in town.

STOCKTON, Nov. 28.—The bodies of the two men who were [illegible] to death at Weinke's store seventeen miles from Stockton, as reported last evening, are recovered. Their names were John Boone and Richard Sager, and from the evidence elicited at the Coroner's inquest, held last night, it is shown that they were [illegible], a bullet hole being through the head of one and a bandage tied over the mouth and the hands tied of the other. The charred remains of Sager were brought to this city by Colonel Boyd to-night and by him will be interred. Boone was a Canadian and Sager an Englishman.

BY STATE TELEGRAPH.

OREGON CITY, Nov. 28.—Mr. John F. Kidder, Superintendent of Construction of the Oregon Central Railroad, reached Clackamas bridge with the locomotive this evening. A temporary track will be laid across the county bridge until the reconstruction of the regular railroad bridge is completed. The track layers will [illegible] in a few days.

A New Alarm

A new [illegible] assessed the Herald. A cartoon in Harper's Weekly representing Uncle Sam's Thanksgiving Dinner fills the unhappy editor of that sheet with terror and dismay. For assembled around the table with persons representing all the nations are a negro and a Chinaman. The [illegible] of this cartoon has evidently frightened the editor out of the few remaining senses that he had saved from the general wreck of his faculties produced by contemplating the nigger heretofore in the thousand frightful shapes in which he has appeared during the last ten years. This last spectacle is too much! The overstrained Democratic intellect cannot endure it. The heart sinks, the brain grows dizzy, reason reels and collapses, and we hear the hysterical shriek that "this whole thing"—this dreadful picture,—is designed to show the state of affairs that Radicals propose to bring about by the Fifteenth Amendment! Poor Tom's a cold!

But this outburst of maniacal rage is relieved by one evidence of sanity. The editor has caused a couple of those cartoons to be posted on his bulletin board, and has omitted to post the Herald there in the usual way. This is a great improvement. Is it one of the accidental caprices of madness, whereby wisest things are often done, or is it madness with method in it? In either case the hit is a most happy one, for one page of pictures in Harper's Weekly is worth more than this Democratic organ posted up in public for a whole month together.

If this madness were not incurable, if a mind so diseased could be ministered to, we might undertake to show this editor that the danger is not so terrible after all, that unless he is perfectly willing to take his thanksgiving dinner in such company he need not do it. We might go further, and suggest that though he's laboring under a delusion that he and his Democratic friends are to be compelled to dine in such company there is every probability that most of them would not be admitted to it. They certainly must get the consent of the whole party, the negro and Chinaman included, and this they might find it very difficult to do. A few high toned Democrats, like Governor Haight of California, are occasionally admitted to such banquets, but the vulgar herd are kept at a distance. So that the people of the Herald, instead of being forced into social intercourse with such a company as that represented in Harper's cartoon, in all probability would be denied admittance. We think it is clear, then that the danger after all is not so dreadful.

We suppose there has never been a time in this or in any other civilized country when white and colored people could not dine together if they wanted to do so. And we suppose the Fifteenth Amendment will not change things very much in this respect. In fact, it will have about as much to do with fixing terms of social intercourse as in regulating the price of Erie or Central Pacific stocks. In England, colored people of education and wealth have always held first-class social positions. In some parts of the United States the same thing has been observed. In both countries there are aristocratic blacks who [illegible] "poor whites." Society stratifies itself. It is governed by its own conventional rules. Its distinctions generally are based on wealth, sometimes, but rarely on other considerations. There are multitudes of white people who cannot associate with other white people. The rules of society exclude them from the "higher circles" just as [illegible] the poorer classes of blacks, and far more inexorably than they exclude blacks of wealth and education.

The Herald, with a lavish display of capitals, says: "We have posted copies of this picture on the Herald bulletin boards, and we request white men to come and see them with their own eyes. If there are any left who are so blind as to be deceived in regard to the ultimate designs of Radicalism, a sight of this picture must make them alter their ways." Now if any Democrat is weak enough to imagine that there is any political capital for his party in such appeals as this, he is certainly one of that class who for ten years has learned nothing. The negro we may presume to say, has hardly been a political success for the Democratic party, and if that party had any judgment left it would cease trying to build a political edifice with the negro for a corner stone.

However, we deeply sympathize with the editor of the Herald. His fright is real, and probably he can't help it. But let all such be consoled. One of the blessings of "Radical rule" is that every man has full protection. In this free country, no man shall be dragged off to dine with negroes and Chinamen against his will. Let him stand on his rights as a citizen, and the "Radicals" will see that he has protection. The talk about "nigger equality" [illegible] must be owned is becoming [illegible] monotonous, but it is an agreeable change to find that the Democratic battle cry no longer is, "Do you want your grandmother to marry a nigger?" The cry now is, "How would you like to dine with niggers and Chinamen?"—providing they don't object.

The New York Frauds

The great frauds perpetrated in the New York Custom House, of which accounts have recently been received took place during the years 1866, 1867 and 1868. They were perpetrated through the instrumentality of "drawbacks." It may enlighten many who are not commercial people to know what is meant by this term. The law of 1862 which imposed a revenue tax on articles manufactured contained a provision that if any of the articles were afterwards exported an amount should be paid to the exporter equal to the amount previously paid as tax. This was called a "drawback." In order to have a drawback claim recognized the exporter is required in the first place to procure a certificate from the Collector of Internal Revenue, showing the amount of tax paid on the articles which were to be exported. After this was obtained it was necessary to make an affidavit in regard to the goods for export stating their destination, the name or names of the owner or owners etc. When the export was made the exporter applied to the Drawback Department at the Custom House, for a certificate or outward bound manifest as it is designated, certifying that the goods had been exported and giving certain information about them and the vessel which carried them. It was the duty of a clerk to make out the manifest and to attach his initials or name to it as evidence of its genuineness, in order that it might subsequently be indorsed by one of the Deputy Collectors upon the Internal Revenue certificate, the affidavit and the Custom House manifest being procured they went to the Auditor's [illegible] at Washington, going from there to the United States Treasurer who issued a check for the amount of the drawback claim.

In the fall of 1866, when the men whose political services had been bought with offices by Andrew Johnson began to riot in public plunder the scheme of swindling the Government by fraudulent drawbacks was first [illegible]. The fraud consisted of presenting a false certificate from the Custom House that the goods enumerated in the claim had been exported. [illegible] hundred of these fraudulent certificates [illegible] the possession of the Government, the whole number being made out in such a manner as to excite very little suspicion [illegible]. They are signed with the initials of Chas J Theriott and Samuel T Blatchford, both of whom were clerks in the Custom House in 1866 '67 and '68, one belonging to the Drawback Department and the other to the Export Statistical Bureau. The latter is now under $10 000 bail to appear for trial for complicity in the frauds. He was the principal of the swindlers in the Custom House and was used by them in the most heartless manner. His only recompense for valuable services rendered to the conspirators by which they realized many hundred thousand dollars was the paltry sum of $250.

It is believed that the Government has been swindled to the full amount of one million dollars by these operations. The discovery of these frauds is another evidence of the scandalous corruption of Johnson's administration. Other Custom House villainy involving hundreds of thousands of dollars, has also been unearthed at New Orleans. It was a fortunate thing for the country to get rid of Johnson as soon as it did, otherwise his favorites would have stolen it all.

OREGON

Chas Bridgefarmer of Lebanon, Linn county lost $300 last week by the burning of his smokehouse where he has been curing bacon.

During the late freshet the dam of the Harrisburg Flouring Company was carried away. The whole loss will amount to not less than $10 000. Hiram Smith and Eli Moore are the principal losers.

In portions of Linn county, where flax has been cut this season, since the rains the second crop has sprouted from the roots, and is higher than the first crop and a large portion of it is in bloom. Wild strawberries are also in bloom.

The Albany Register says: The people of Lebanon are still agitating the question of bringing in a water ditch. The stockholders are to have a meeting on the 11th of December, when some thing definite will be settled upon. Those best informed say the work will be commenced early in the spring.

The Register of Albany learns that the late freshet has almost ruined the river channel between Harrisburg and Eugene City, and that unless the new chutes are very much improved by subsequent high water, it will be impossible to reach Eugene City with boats except at the very highest stage of water.

They have a first class ghost at Albany. It is the sole occupant of the house it inhabits. The Democrat gives the following blood freezing account of it: Persons have seen it at one of the upper windows, at the dead hour of night apparently a human form, but headless, standing with arms extended, as though imploring help. Others claim that they have seen the ghost in the shape of a human head, the face horribly mutilated, stuck on a pitchfork, and occasional groans and yells issuing from its bleeding mouth. Its eyes seem revolving balls of fire, emitting occasional gleams of light sufficient to allow the beholders to see things distinctly for several yards around.

Talking of probable railroad routes, the Albany Register has the following: Mr Brooks has gone with Hon Jesse Applegate, who came to this city for that purpose, to view the Rock Creek Pass through the Calipooia mountains. This pass is to the west of the old Cartwright road running over that range. Mr Holladay takes quite an interest in the survey of that pass and leads us to believe that if it shall prove practicable, the road will be run that way. It is claimed that it is a better route and ten miles shorter than the one by Eugene and Pass Creek. If this prove to be the case, the road will probably be located through the Rock Creek Pass, passing through the city and crossing the Willamette river at Harrisburg.

POLITICAL

A correspondent of the New York World, writing from Cincinnati, discusses the causes of Mr Pendleton's defeat. He says Gen Rosecrans could have been elected, but the truth is there are too many old fashioned Democrats in the West to be led astray by any such false light as our late candidate for Governor who made his success depend upon a national issue in which the enlightened portion of the party are in unison with the Democracy of the East.

Omaha dates of the 12th inst announce the result of the election in Kansas on the Legislature as follows: Senate—Republicans 25, Democrats, 00. House—Republicans, 80, Democrats 11. Totals—Republicans 105, Democrats 11. Republicans majority, 94. Democratic editors can figure up for themselves how much "Democratic gain" there is in this state of political affairs in Kansas. Perhaps the whole eleven Democratic members elect are "gains." We should not wonder if they were.

Though Mr Greeley is a Universalist he nevertheless when moved with righteous indignation proves recreant to his charitable creed and becomes alarmingly orthodox. For the New York Republicans who refrained from going to the polls and voting, at least against the property qualification for colored men, he says he feels "a scorn which is barely distinguishable from loathing. If there be anywhere in the universe an uncomfortable place these hypocrites ought to be invited to the hottest corner of it."

The forthcoming report of the Secretary of War will show a reduction of about $30 000 000 in the expenses of that department during the fiscal year ending on the 30th of last June, and since that time during the current fiscal year the reduction has proceeded in still greater ratio. The Navy Department will present an equally creditable state of affairs, having not yet drawn a dollar of its appropriations for the current year. The Democrats may growl but facts like these influence the people and prove to them that the President is successfully carrying out the pledges he made.

A movement is now making in Wisconsin to carry out the policy which has been adopted in Cincinnati and exclude the Bible from the public schools of that State. Its leaders are the German, and it is probable that it will succeed. The decision of the Supreme Court of Ohio which has been appealed to by those who favored the retention of the Bible in the schools will be awaited with interest. Judge [illegible] decision in the famous case of the Girard College is relied upon by those who are in favor of the Bible as indicating what will be the judgment in the case. He decided first that it would be against public policy to prohibit religious instructions in an educational [illegible] and that the Bible is a religious but not a sectarian book.

The Chicago Times, a thoroughly Democratic paper declares that that city needs now more than anything else ten thousand Chinese to act as domestic servants. What do our California Bourbons say to that? But worse still what will they say when told that the Times regards the quality of Chinamen as house servants as superior to those now employed chiefly from European countries? The few female servants, says that paper, that may be found here and they are only temporary affairs who are mainly interested in [illegible] flirtations with a view to early matrimony. Keeping house is becoming an impossibility with such service in which fretting and scolding are the leading industries of the employees about the establishment. For these reasons the Times thinks it would conduce greatly to the happiness and interest of the housekeeper of Chicago to import as soon as possible ten thousand Chinese.

Facts About Alaska

From the San Francisco Bulletin

A great amount of ignorance has been enlisted in writing down Alaska. Red tape has engaged in the business with a persistency worthy of a better cause. But when a civilian goes into the country and makes a pretty thorough exploration he comes back with a different story. There is hardly an instance where an explorer of this character has come back with an account sustaining the views put forth industriously in some of the New York papers and superficially by military writers.

The latest authentic account which we have is from Vincent Colyer who has just returned from that country. He says that the islands of St Paul and St George are alone worth the price paid for the whole territory. That the annual revenue derived from these two islands by certain San Francisco firms ranges from $300 000 to $500 000.

There about 70 000 Indians in the Territory. They are far superior to any other Indians found on this coast. Many of them are expert in working metals; they erect houses of framed timbers occupy fixed habitations, many of them can read and many of them have been under the civilizing influences of the Greek Church which has translated portions of the Scriptures into three of the Indian dialects, viz: Aleutian, Koloschian and Techinmean. Many of the Indians talk Russian and act as interpreters.

The officials of the Greek Church say that they are better supported now than they were before the country was annexed to the United States as the Indians get more for their services. There are not more than 100 voters in the Territory, and not more than 400 white persons, including women and children. Not a single school has been opened since the Territory was purchased nor did our informant know of a single clergyman in active service other than those of the Greek Church. The fisheries are wonderful, the less frequented parts of the country swarm with deer and other wild game is abundant. At one place, where it was said the Indians were suffering with hunger, our informant found salmon so plenty that they could be scooped out with small nets in any desirable quantities. Beets, parsnips, carrots and barley are grown without trouble. Far up in the most northern regions at Cook's Inlet in Behring's Sea, fat cattle were purchased for the use of the ship, and were for sale in large numbers. One plateau was found on Kearney Island, in about the latitude of lower Greenland, which was about fifty miles square. The whole of this was fit for cultivation, producing barley, beets, turnips and other food. There is not a saw mill in the whole Territory. There are thousands of civilized Indians strong and faithful when dealt honorably with, who are ready to work for the most moderate wages. They will make no trouble if properly protected in their rights. A Sitka chief and a sub chief came down to this port by the last steamer.

This vast territory is evidently not the worthless country which some have persistently represented. It is full of natural wealth, and its resources will not remain much longer undeveloped.

Travel Bros are agents for a new book, entitled "Our Home Physician," which is entirely new in matter and style, and which appears to us, even from the limited examination we have been able to give it, to be exceedingly valuable. It is got out in elegant style, and is clearly a decided improvement upon most volumes of the kind. A great fund of information will be found in its pages, and it is in all respects such a book as will be useful to all classes of people.

A neglected Cough, Cold, or Sore Throat, which might be checked by a simple remedy like "BROWN'S BRONCHIAL TROCHES," if allowed to progress may terminate seriously. For Bronchitis, Asthma, Catarrh and Consumptive Coughs, "THE TROCHES" are used with advantage, giving oftentimes immediate relief. Singers and public speakers will find them also excellent to clear the voice and render articulation wonderfully easy.

THE NEXT QUARTER of the Portland Academy and Female Seminary will begin November 22 1869.

Department Headquarters.—Mr. H. G. Struve of Clarke county, W. T., recently introduced in the Legislature a memorial asking the Secretary of War to re-establish the Military Headquarters of this Department at Ft. Vancouver, from which we take the following extract:

"Until the year A. D. 1866, Fort Vancouver was used as the headquarters of the Department of the Columbia. Prior to that time it had been the headquarters of the District of Oregon. In the year 1866, for some reasons unknown to your memorialists, the General commanding the Department, with his aid-de-camps and Assistant Adjutant General, established his office at Portland, Oregon. Shortly after the Chief Quartermaster and Chief Commissary followed and then the Medical Director and Chief Paymaster and all other officers belonging to the Staff of the Commanding General. For all these, offices had to be furnished at exorbitant rents. Fuel furnished at Fort Vancouver by Government contract $3 94 per cord, is consumed at Portland at the exorbitant rate of $16 per cord in currency, making at least a difference of $8 per cord. Civilian employees have to be paid high wages to perform services which were rendered by soldiers on extra duty at Fort Vancouver. [illegible] are now rented at high rates, and many other expenses incurred which would have been unnecessary if the Headquarters had remained at Fort Vancouver. The following is the military force now stationed at the city of Portland, to-wit:

One Lieutenant Colonel, commanding the Department; two Majors, two Captains, two Lieutenants and thirty-five enlisted men, including the non-commissioned staff and band.

[illegible] of the Legislative Assembly to whom [illegible] the subject matter contained in this memorial, having investigated the facts, have reported the following summary of the additional costs incurred each month by the Government in having said Headquarters located at Portland, which by your memorialists are believed to be true and correct, and which would be saved to the Government by the re-establishment of said Headquarters at Fort Vancouver:

1. Rent of offices at $3,000 in coin per annum or $[illegible] in currency	$ 400 00
[illegible] of quarters for one Lieutenant [illegible] per month	72 50
[illegible] of quarters for six Majors	432 00
[illegible] quarters for two Captains	108 00
[illegible] quarters for two Lieutenants
[illegible] of above named officers, allowance being about 46 cords per month, and reckoning the difference of price between Portland and [illegible] at $8 per cord in currency	368 00
[illegible] per month	100 00
[illegible] per month	100 00
[illegible] of forage for 22 horses [illegible] approximated at [illegible] per month for each horse	352 00
[illegible] building for enlisted men, about	100 00
[illegible] duty pay of ten enlisted men per month	168 00
[illegible] per month	$2,204 00

[illegible]—The Salem Statesman advocates the [illegible] steam fire engine for the Fire Department.

[illegible] Ann came down the river yesterday, Friday, with the old familiar shriek. She belongs to the [illegible] Navigation Company, and probably [illegible] business. The Ann has not been very [illegible], and in her new career we hope [illegible] more prosperous.

[illegible] are now running as high as Harrisburg. [illegible] made to Eugene, but navigation was found [illegible] at a point known as "Bromley's Defeat," [illegible] Eugene, where the river has heretofore [illegible] to the west, it recently cut a straight [illegible] across the neck of land formed by [illegible] the new channel, it is said, is full of fallen [illegible] very safe or convenient. It is in contemplation [illegible] up a boat to explore and see what work required to open the new channel. The place [illegible] Bromley's Defeat" was so named because Mr. [illegible] at that point, [illegible] choked with logs.

[illegible]—We find the following in the Enterprise: [illegible] that we announce the departure of [illegible] friend S. Levy, from the office of the [illegible] Company, in this city. Mr. [illegible] this city has been notified of her appointment by the Orphans' Aid Society of Oregon, to the [illegible] this county. Bids must state the price per [illegible] and embankment, including [illegible] rubbish and other obstructions, [illegible] lying between the centers of [illegible] east and west. The work to be completed [illegible] 1st, 1870.

The California.—The steamship Mary [illegible] sailed for San Francisco at 4 o'clock P. M. on Saturday. The following is her passenger list: Jos Sedgwick, [illegible], Jesse Barman, Philip Lisa, Capt F A [illegible], Chas F Robbins, H Dusenberry, Mrs [illegible], E H Walker, Mrs H Smith, Moses [illegible], Dr W Mitchell and wife, H F [illegible], Mrs E W Sherwood, Mrs Mary Lawler, [illegible] and wife, Miss Bridget Lawler, [illegible] W Miller and wife, J G Scranton and [illegible] wife and daughter, J F Hallis, J J Napier, [illegible] C Gross, Mrs Martin, D Badley, John [illegible], Mrs Meta Hookettle, C I West, [illegible] & Co's Messenger, and 25 in steerage.

[illegible]—We learn that a young man employed [illegible] on board the steamer Alert, has been missing [illegible] since the boat left Milwaukie yesterday [illegible] the upward bound trip. Just after the boat [illegible], he was seen to put on his hat and walk [illegible] toward the forward deck, since when he [illegible] seen. It is conjectured that he jumped [illegible] and was drowned. He had at one time been [illegible] Insane Asylum, but since his employment on the [illegible] been quiet and attentive to his duties.

Autobiography of R. J. Walker.—Robert J. Walker, wrote the following sketch of himself in an autograph book, at the request of a friend, in 1867. R. J. Walker, born at the town of Northumberland, Pa., July 19, 1801; graduated at the University of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia, July, 1819, Judge of the Supreme Court of Mississippi, about 1828; United States Senator from Mississippi from January 8, 1836, to March 10, 1845; Secretary of the Treasury from March 10, 1845, to March 5, 1849; appointed Commissioner to China June, 1853; resigned because a steamer could not be furnished me as promised, Governor of Kansas from April, 1857, to December, 1857; resigned because I would not aid in forcing slavery on Kansas by fraud and forgery; Financial Agent of the United States Government, by appointment of Mr. Chase, then Secretary of the Treasury, to Europe from March, 1863, to November, 1864, when I returned home, having completed my mission by causing to be taken and bought these $250,000,000 of Mr. Chase's United States 5-20 six per cent. bonds, and defeated the second Confederate loan of $75,000,000; co-operated with others during the same period in various important transactions for the federal Government, under a special letter from Mr. Seward, Secretary of State, written by the express sanction of President Lincoln. The above is written by request of my excellent and much valued friend, S. York, at Lee.

Another important step has been taken in the photographic art, the transferring of photographs to seals, so that the writer of a letter or signer of a document can seal it with his portrait. A thin layer gelatine is exposed to light under a photographic position, by which the parts acted on are rendered insoluble in water, while the parts not acted upon swell up when immersed, and thus give a picture in relief, of which a plaster cast can be taken, and a metalic seal cast in the usual way.

The Railroad Iron continues to arrive by hundreds of tons. The Webfoot having a locomotive on board is on her way to our city, and everything to facilitate the building of the great Railroad is progressing as well, as those Nonpareil Beaver Suits and those extra Scotch Chinchilla "Roundabouts" are selling at KOHN & FISHEL'S, whose Stock of CLOTHING and GENTS' FURNISHING GOODS is the handsomest ever imported to Oregon, and their principle of selling with SMALL PROFITS proves a benefit to the public as well as to themselves. Their Stock of DRY GOODS is positively offered at COST.

The subjoined correspondence sufficiently explains itself.

PORTLAND, Oregon, Nov. 15, 1869.

Messrs. Everson & Haines, General Agents New England Mutual Life Insurance Company, Boston:

Gentlemen:—On my own behalf and in the name of my orphan children, I beg to thank you, and through you the New England Mutual Life Insurance Company of Boston, for its munificence in paying me my terminated policy on the life of my husband. On the 21st January, 1869, misfortune compelled me to forego the payment of the last premium—which non-payment in any other company would have lost me my policy but I am now overjoyed with the receipt of the amount of the policy (less the amount of the unpaid premium only), thanks to the equity of the Massachusetts Lapse Laws, that must bless many widows and their children. I recommend the New England Mutual to all who would provide against possible misfortune. I sincerely thank you again, gentlemen, for the payment, and also for your generous and gentlemanly assistance in the matter.

Respectfully, BETSEY MILLER.

PORTLAND, OREGON, Nov. 15, 1869.

Messrs. Everson & Haines, General Agents of the New England Mutual Life Insurance Company of Boston.

Gentlemen:—Having taken a lively interest in the affairs of the large and destitute family, left by an old resident of this city, who died Aug. 2, 1869, and who was insured in the New England Mutual Life Insurance Company, we take pleasure in making the following statement for the information of the public:

A. E. C. Miller was insured by ordinary Life Policy No. 13,054, bearing date January 21, 1868. He paid annual payments to January 21, 1868, inclusive. Since then nothing has been paid. He died August 2, 1869, over eighteen months after last payment of premium, yet your Company working under the Equitable Lapse Laws of Massachusetts, pays the widow and orphans the whole policy, deducting only the premium due; while in all other companies doing business here, about which we know anything, the policy would long since have been forfeited.

By the New England Mutual, the widow has been paid $4,650 50. This we consider munificent, more especially when we take into consideration that the family would not have received a cent from any other company doing business on this coast. This in our estimation is enough to recommend this company above all others. This is Equity, this is Mutuality. We, therefore, commend this company to the public, as the only company that has no forfeitures.

We herewith inclose you the acknowledgments of the widow.

Respectfully yours, etc.

To Messrs. C. Bills, J. Myer, Geo. H. Flanders and M. Sellers:

Gentlemen:—Your favor of yesterday, inclosing "acknowledgments of Mrs. Miller," is at hand.

Please accept our thanks for the voluntary justice you have done the company we represent.

What is a Tonic?

Bear this in mind,—that although a tonic is to a certain extent, a stimulant,—a stimulant unmodified by any medicinal substance, is not a tonic, but a DEBILITANT. In HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS there is a stimulating element of the purest grade manufactured in this or any other country. Every fiery and corrosive oil or acid which contaminates the ordinary liquors of commerce, is expelled from the rye spirit which forms the alcoholic basis of the BITTERS, by careful and repeated rectification. The juices of the valuable roots, barks and herbs, infused into this wholesome product of the finest grain, still further modify its nature; so that as it becomes, in fact, a simple diffusive agent, minus all the heady and brain exciting properties which belong more or less, to all liquors in a raw state. It is merely the safe and harmless vehicle which render the medicinal virtues of the preparation effective,—increasing their active power and diffusing them through the system. Hence the pleasant and gentle glow which is experienced after taking a dose of the BITTERS. Instead of creating headache as unmedicated stimulants are apt to do, this salubrious tonic is the best known remedy for that complaint. It calms and soothes cerebral excitement, strengthens the nerves, promotes the secretion of the gastric juice, invigorates the bowels, determines the fluids to the surface, improves the appetite, increases the animal vigor, regulates organic action, and from its mild yet effective alterative qualities, is the very best preparation that can be administered to the weaker sex in the peculiar difficulties to which their organization subjects them.

THE PEOPLE SAY

That PRATT'S ABOLITION OIL is the best remedy in the world for the complete and speedy cure of Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Lame Back, Gout, Chilblains, Sprains, Bruises, Stiff and Swollen Joints, Contracted Cords and Muscles, Pains in the Breast and Sides, Nervous Headache, Toothache, Earache, Sore Throat, Colic, Cramps, Cholera Morbus, Diarrhea, and all internal and external aches and pains. Put up in two sizes—Price 50 cents and $1 00 Circulars with full directions around the bottle. For sale by all druggists.

THE BLOOD AND LIVER.

Life and health depend on their condition. PRATT'S NEW LIFE purifies the blood, heals old sores, expels from the system all scrofulous humors, cutaneous eruption and impure matter. It stimulates the Liver and Kidneys to healthy action, regulates the Bowels, cures Piles and Dyspepsia. Persons subject to Billious attacks and those suffering from the effects of Fever and Ague, or any injudicious use of Quinine and Mercury will find PRATT'S NEW LIFE invaluable. Price $1 00.

American Finance.

President Grant's Secretary of the Treasury has no romantic views as to the power of the mere beauty of honesty in instigating his fellow countrymen into discharging their just debts. He has just been pleading for payment of the United States public debt in coin, on the ground of the injury which any other policy must do the nation itself. The public creditor, he is generous enough to acknowledge, also has his rights; but the whole force of his argument is directed to proving how petty would be the profit the public debtor would derive from violating them. In itself, the fact that an argument for paying a debt should be necessary is not very reassuring to the creditor. To hear that statesmen are defending the propriety of paying national debts is hardly more agreeable than to be told by a friend that he has been defending one's reputation against certain malicious scandals. If, moreover, an apology for national honesty has to be made, the creditor is generally so egotistical as to expect to find his right to repayment figuring in a more prominent place than the corner to which Mr. Secretary Boutwell relegates it.

Unfortunately, the question as to the obligation to execute the contract between the State and the public creditors, according to the sense in which it was understood by the latter when they lent their money, has been raised in the Union. The obligation has been disputed so loudly, and from such high places, that it may be mock modesty in an American politician to affect to ignore the doubt. We think, the Secretary of the Treasury might with advantage have upheld the positive title of the creditors to repayment, apart from any question whether or no repayment will ultimately be for the debtor's benefit. Possibly Mr. Boutwell considered that when it becomes necessary for a Finance Minister to contend against repudiation, the time is past for appealing to any but selfish instincts. But if mere interest is to be appealed to, it is scarcely worth while appealing to such transcendental interests as Mr. Boutwell calls to the aid of his argument. The politicians who are ready to make political capital out of schemes for giving the creditors of the United States something less than what they bargained for are, we apprehend, far beyond the power of appreciating such a plea as that repudiation would debase the national character. We are ourselves entirely of Mr. Boutwell's opinion that for the United States to pay their debts in anything but coin would develop in the American people, not now alone, but in the future, a baleful disregard of right and of the principles underlying individual and public prosperity.

The inclination to treat public obligations as binding only so long as the one party benefits by them must, like a name cut in bark, spread and grow with the growth of the nation. Arguments of this kind, however, raise a false issue, and have a dangerous tendency to lead those for whose behoof they are used to fancy that in not acting like rogues they will be doing something very heroic and magnanimous. Provided that a nation does keep its faith, it may not matter very much that it has gratified its vanity at the same time. But it is exceedingly easy for it to slide from the belief that a particular course would be simply chivalrous into prudential calculations that charity begins at home, and that the generous act for which credit is taken may be put off till other times. It is not, then, for any want of sympathy with Mr. Boutwell's patriotic alarm as to the evil consequences of attempts to shuffle out of the letter of the compact with the public creditor that we are sorry he did not put the plea he deduces from the high destinies of the great Republic second, and give the chief place to the [illegible] claims of the men who have taken the people's promises. But we think it a poor kindness in any American statesman to tempt his countrymen into performing so ordinary a duty as paying their debts by telling them that they will thereby be earning the glory of patriotism. The obligation cannot be put too simply and nakedly. It is a duty which the American people owes primarily to the creditor. We will not believe that the nation, as such, requires to have any other reason besides the creditor's right pointed out to it.

Arguments of this sort are, in fact, of force neither with repudiators, nor with non-repudiators. The latter would not heed them, and the former would not understand them. Mr. Boutwell's arguments are meant for the benefit and instruction of that part of the American people which represents the debtors; but all arguments for paying public debts converge to the public creditor's advantage, as their common centre. So long as he receives his interest and can recover his principal, he will not analyze minutely the [illegible] assigned for acting justly and honestly by him. But it is of importance, if not for the [illegible] individual creditors, yet for the general interests both of America and of Europe, that the American people should settle down into a frame of mind more consistent with the sanctity of the rights of creditors than Mr. Secretary Boutwell's well-intentioned remarks imply to be their case at present. They must recognize the truth that money borrowed is to be presumed worth the [illegible] on which it was originally lent, and that the terms of a loan are determined once for all at the time when it is contracted. It is for the interest of European capitalists that they should be able to invest money in America with confidence. A land with almost unlimited resources, as yet comparatively undeveloped, furnishes a profitable field for the investment of capital from countries with large accumulated wealth. By investing capital there, they become, as it were, partners with the American people. They gain by receiving larger profits than they would have obtained from the same capital at home; America, however, whose natural resources, but for this advance of capital, must have remained idle and latent, gains infinitely more. But whatever implies a disposition in the American people to take to itself a disposition to revise the terms of a loan, whether public or private, at a later period, and to repudiate the partnership based on it as soon as the speculation is beginning to become valuable, repulses capital, and in the same degree throws back the development of American wealth. The only sound rule to give capital courage to permeate thoroughly the territories of the Union is that a "bargain is a bargain," and that it is a sufficient reason why the one party is bound to keep it that the other party to it has made arrangements on the faith of its being kept. This is a principle which is perfectly consistent with Mr. Secretary Boutwell's plea for payments in coin, on the ground of the evil example which payments in greenbacks would prove to the countless unborn millions of American citizens; but it is one which is a good deal simpler and safer for State financiers to insist upon.

An Estimate of Daniel Webster.

The New York World, in noticing Curtis' Life of Webster, soon to be published, has the following remarks on that illustrious man:

There have been no statesmen among Mr. Webster's successors considerable enough to eclipse him; and the great events which have since occurred have already receded far enough into the past for men to begin to speculate upon their causes and him to see them in a just perspective. As soon as public thought takes this direction, Mr. Webster will again come into view as perhaps the foremost man of this century on the American continent. It was he that supplied the ideas which triumphed in the late war for the Union. The mighty contest was fought in the field of argument and eloquence long before it came to a collision of arms; Webster being the uncontested leader on one side, and Calhoun on the other. It was because Webster had indoctrinated the whole North with his views of the structure of our government, that the whole North was ready, as one man, to fight against the heresy of secession. The ascendancy of Calhoun was almost equally great over the public mind of the South. These eminent men—Webster and Calhoun—were the intellectual chiefs who prepared their respective sections of the country for the late deadly conflict. We suppose it will be the judgment of posterity that Calhoun was overmatched in intellectual force (most certainly not in logical acuteness) as his section afterwards was in physical resources. Mr. Webster's superiority consisted in his broader nature and ampler endowment, and especially in his greater gifts of luminous eloquence, which made him the idol of our young men at a stage of their culture when eloquence exerts its most powerful fascination. Whether Webster carried off the palm of argument is a question on which very able men have differed; but his intellectual equipment was much more various than that of his great antagonist. His power of appealing to the imagination and sympathies of his countrymen and captivating their admiration, gave him an advantage not possessed by his astute and fervid opponent. All the ingenuous youth of the North were smitten by his eloquence before they were capable of estimating the force of his arguments. A generation whom he had thus moulded in the fullness of his influence, were called upon, within ten years after his death, to decide whether they would admit the right of secession; and their minds has been heated to such a glow in his powerful forge as to preclude all hesitation. "The Union now and forever, one and inseparable," was a sentiment which he had so infused into all ingenuous hearts that they were ready to pour out every drop of their blood in its support. If the Union has been saved it was he that saved it; saved it by supplying the ideas and incentives which made it the pride and choice of so many brave men to lay down their lives rather than see a single star effaced from the ample folds of the national flag.

The late war, then, and its triumphant result, can never eclipse him, or obscure his fame. The more it is studied, the profounder will be the public recognition of his great services in training and educating his countrymen in the constitutional doctrines which they fought to uphold. He is the one man without whom success could not have been achieved; for no man but he had the intellectual force and assemblage of impressive gifts requisite for blunting the edge of secession logic, and pouring a tide of adverse sentiment into the popular heart. He was able to do this because not only his intellect, but his whole nature, was cast in a gigantic mould. His depth and fullness of feeling was perhaps the greatest of all his endowments. It was this which led the flood of his massive, masculine eloquence, and enabled him to bear away all hearts upon the resistless current. It was this which loosed the severe control which his judgment kept over his imagination, and prompted those magnificent outbursts that found their way from his speeches into the school books and live in perennial freshness.

HOAGLAND'S

NEW PATENT SHAFT COUPLING!

W. E. COOPER

HAS PURCHASED THE RIGHT FOR THIS County of the above Patent, and will hereafter use it in the construction of all the Vehicles manufactured at his extensive

Carriage Factory,
Corner of Second and Morrison Streets.

He respectfully refers to the following

C A R D.

Having examined the New Patent Shaft Coupling, invented by H. B. Hoagland, we feel pleasure in informing the public that in our opinion it is the safest and best method of connecting shafts or tongues to all vehicles that has ever been used.

It fastens without bolt or screw, and is therefore, easily and speedily separated. It rests on Gutta Percha so as to be entirely free from the rattling sound which so often disturbs restless horses. It is easily changed so that the shafts or tongue may be detached in an instant, and is convenient, safe and secure.

It is easy to change to this style of coupling any buggy or other vehicle now in use, and with small expense. We have come to the conclusion to use this new invention ourselves and recommend its use in all cases. We consider it far superior to the Brewster Patent, heretofore considered the best in use.

FORM OF PROPOSAL, GUARANTEE, AND CERTIFICATE.

Proposal.

The undersigned ——, whose post office address is ——, county of ——, State of ——, proposes to convey the mails of the United States, from July 1, 1870, to June 30, 1874, on route No. ——, between —— and ——, under the advertisement of the Postmaster General, dated September 3, 1869, with "celerity, certainty, and security," for the annual sum of —— dollars.

This proposal is made with full knowledge of the distance of the route, the weight of the mail to be carried, and all other particulars in reference to the route and service, and also after careful examination of the laws and instructions attached to the advertisement.

Dated (Signed.)

Guarantee.

The undersigned, residing at ——, State of ——, undertake that, if the foregoing bid for carrying the mail on route No. —— be accepted by the Postmaster General, the bidder shall, prior to the 1st day of July, 1870, enter into the required obligation or contract to perform the service proposed, with good and sufficient sureties.

This we do, understanding distinctly the obligations and liabilities assumed by guarantors under the 27th section of the act of Congress of July 2, 1836.

Dated (Signed by two guarantors.)

Certificate.

The undersigned, postmaster at ——, State of ——, certifies, under his oath of office, that he is acquainted with the above guarantors, and knows them to be men of property, and able to make good their guarantee.

Dated (Signed.)
Cal., Oregon, and Wash. ——

INSTRUCTIONS TO BIDDERS AND POSTMASTERS;

Containing also conditions to be incorporated in the contracts to the extent the Department may deem proper.

1. Seven minutes are allowed to each intermediate office, when not otherwise specified, for assorting the mails, but on railroad and steamboat routes there is to be no more delay than is sufficient for an exchange of the mail pouches.

2. On railroad and steamboat lines, and other routes where the mode of conveyance admits of it, the special agents of the Post Office Department, also post office blanks, mail bags, locks and keys, are to be conveyed without extra charge.

3. On railroad and steamboat lines the route agents of the Department, also the British and Canada mails, when offered, and the agents accompanying them, are conveyed without charge; and for the use of the United States agents a commodious car, or part of a car, properly lighted, warmed, and furnished, and adapted to the convenient separation and due security of the mails, is to be provided by the contractor, under the direction of the Department.

Railroad and steamboat companies are required to take the mail from, and deliver it into, the postoffices at the beginning and end of their routes, and to and from all offices not more than eighty rods from a station or landing. Proposals may be submitted by the companies for the performance of all other side service—that is, for offices over eighty rods from a station or landing.

There will be "way bills" prepared by postmasters, or other agents of the Department, to accompany the mails conveyed on railroads and steamers, specifying the number and destination of the several bags. On other principal routes, likewise, receipts will be required and way bills forwarded; the latter to be examined by the several postmasters, to insure regularity in the delivery of mails.

4. No pay will be made for trips not performed; and for each of such omissions, not satisfactorily explained, three times the pay of the trip will be deducted. For arrivals so far behind time as to break connection with depending mails, and not sufficiently excused, one-fourth of the compensation for the trip is subject to forfeiture. For repeated delinquencies of the kind herein specified, enlarged penalties, proportioned to the nature thereof, and the importance of the mail, may be made.

5. For leaving behind or throwing off the mails, or any portion of them, for the admission of passengers, or for being concerned in setting up or running an express conveying intelligence in advance of the mail, a quarter's pay may be deducted.

6. Fines will be imposed, unless the delinquency be promptly and satisfactorily explained by certificates of postmasters or the affidavits of other credible persons, for failing to arrive in contract time; for neglecting to take the mail from, or deliver it into a postoffice; for suffering it to be wet, injured, destroyed, robbed or lost; and for refusing, after demand, to convey the mail as frequently as the contractor runs, or is concerned in running, a coach, car, or steamboat on a route.

7. The Postmaster General may annul the contract for repeated failures to run agreeably to contract; for violating the post office laws, or disobeying the instructions of the Department; for refusing to discharge a carrier when required by the Department to do so; for running an express as aforesaid; or for transporting persons or packages conveying mailable matter out of the mail.

8. The Postmaster General may order an increase of service on a route by allowing therefor a pro rata increase on the contract pay. He may change schedules of departures and arrivals in all cases, and particularly to make them conform to connections with railroads, without increase of pay, provided the running time be not abridged. The Postmaster General may also discontinue or curtail the service, in whole or in part, in order to place on the route superior service, or whenever the public interests, in his judgment, shall require such discontinuance or curtailment for any other cause: he allowing as full indemnity to contractor one month's extra pay on the amount of service dispensed with and a pro rata compensation for the amount of service retained and continued.

9. Payments will be made by collections from, or drafts on, postmasters, or otherwise, after the expiration of each quarter—say in November, February, May, and August.

10. The distances are given according to the best information, but no increased pay will be allowed should they be greater than advertised, if the points to be supplied are correctly stated. Bidders must inform themselves on this point, and also in reference to the weight of the mail, the condition of the roads, hills, streams, &c., and all toll bridges, ferries, or obstructions of any kind by which expense may be incurred. No claim for additional pay, based on such ground, can be considered; nor for alleged mistakes or misapprehension as to the degree of service; nor for bridges destroyed, ferries discontinued, or other obstructions increasing distance or expense, occurring during the contract term. Offices established after this advertisement is issued, and also during the contract term, are to be visited without extra pay, if the distance be not increased.

11. Bidders are cautioned to mail their proposals in time to reach the Department by the day and hour named (3 p m March 1, 1870), for bids received after that time will not be considered in competition with a bid of reasonable amount received in time. Neither can bids be considered which are without the guarantee required by law and a certificate of the sufficiency of such guarantee.

12. Bidders should first propose for service strictly according to the advertisement, and then, if they desire, separately for different service; and if the regular bid be the lowest offered for the advertised service, the other propositions may be considered.

13. There should be but one route bid for in a proposal. Consolidated or combination bids, "proposing one sum for two or more routes," are forbidden by law, and cannot be considered.

14. The route, the service, the yearly pay, the name and residence of the bidder, (that is his usual post office address,) and the name of each member of a firm, where a company offers, should be distinctly stated.

15. Bidders are requested to use, as far as practicable, the printed proposals furnished by the Department, to write out in full the sum of their bids, and to retain copies of them.

Altered bids should not be submitted; nor should bids once submitted be withdrawn. No withdrawal of a bid or of guarantee will be allowed unless the withdrawal is dated and received before the last day for receiving proposals.

Each bid must be guaranteed by two responsible persons. The bid and guarantee should be signed plainly with the full name of each person.

The Department reserves the right to reject any bid which may be deemed extravagant, and also to disregard the bids of failing contractors and bidders. (Act of July 2, 1836, section 24.)

16. The bid should be sealed, superscribed "Mail Proposals, State of Oregon," addressed "Second Assistant Postmaster General, Contract Office," and sent by mail, not by or to an agent; and postmasters will not enclose proposals [illegible] in their quarterly returns.

17. The contracts are to be executed and returned to the Department by or before the 1st day of July, 1870, but the service must be begun on that day, [illegible] whether the contracts be returned or not.

Transfers of contracts, or of interest in contracts, are forbidden by law, and consequently cannot be allowed. Bidders will therefore take notice that they will be expected to perform the service accepted to them through the whole term of the contract.

18. Postmasters at offices on or near railroads, but more than eighty rods from a station will, immediately after the 1st of March next, report their distance from the nearest station, to enable the Postmaster General [illegible] supply from the [illegible].

19. Section [illegible] of an act of Congress approved March 3, 1845, provides that contracts for the transportation of the mail shall be let, "in every case, to the lowest bidder tendering sufficient guarantees for faithful performance, without other reference to the mode of such transportation than may be necessary to provide for the due celerity, certainty and security of such transportation." Under this law bids that propose to use a mode with "celerity, certainty, and security" have been decided to be the only legal bids, [illegible] providing for the entire mail however large, [illegible] "celerity, certainty, and security," and have preference over all others, and no others are [illegible].

20. A modification of a bid in any of its essential terms is tantamount to a new bid and cannot be received so as to interfere with regular competition, [illegible] guarantee and certificate, is the only way to shift a previous bid.

21. Postmasters are to be careful not to certify the sufficiency of guarantors or sureties, without knowing that they are persons of sufficient [illegible]. A disregard of this instruction by postmasters [illegible] their oath of office, subjecting them to [illegible]. All bidders, guarantors, and sureties are distinctly notified that on a failure to enter into or perform the contracts for the service proposed for in the accepted bids, their legal liabilities will be enforced against them.

22. Present contractors, and persons known at the Department, must, equally with others, procure guarantors and certificates of their sufficiency substantially in the forms above prescribed. The certificate of sufficiency must be signed by a postmaster, or by a judge of a court of record. No other will be accepted.

Postmaster General.
